Hi Folks,

From Chris' desk....

Good morning and welcome to the Bible Chapel.

I have heard it said that some students actually believed that manual labour was the president of Mexico. Well I need to tell you that this has not been the case with our Capernwray students. Over the past week they have put their hand to every task in front of them with enthusiasm & excellence— they have stacked wood, cleaned, ironed, looked after kids, taught Bible-in-Schools and small groups, run services and put on programmes all about the place, and they have done this with such an awesome attitude that it has been a pleasure & privilege to have them with us. Tonight it is our opportunity to say thanks to them for sharing with us for the week. We will have a shared supper after the evening service which will be the last we will see of this particular team. Please take the time to be part of this service and share your appreciation afterwards during supper.

I was excited to talk with Barbara Jones this week and to hear how she has had an incredible recovery from her heart attack. It seems that she is very much up and about and things are back to normal for her & Tim. Praise God!

Concerning Café... We had an extra large crowd in the café last week and would like to make a few suggestions to help avoid congestion. There are three stations in the café —

1. Orders & Sweets
2. Coffee
3. Savouries & Soup.

If you are only wanting coffee, then no need to wait in the line where the orders are being taken, go straight to the coffee line and make your order. We have moved the savouries & soup to the front wall so you can go directly to the soup line. The goal is simply to help you get what you want easier with less standing in line. If you have a new comer or visitor with you, perhaps you could seat them first and get their order for them - I'm sure they would appreciate that.

That's all from me.

Blessings,

Chris
